

3.3 Consider a section of air-filled K -band waveguide. From the dimensions given in Appendix I, determine the cutoff frequencies of the first two propagating modes. From the recommended operating range given in Appendix I for this guide, determine the percentage reduction in bandwidth that this operating range represents, relative to the theoretical bandwidth for a single propagating mode.